ANNUAL HIGHLAND PARK YARD SALE

Judy Wolfe

Thanks - See you at the Sale!

Remember the last time you walked into your basement/attic/anyroom and thought "I really should get rid of all this stuff". Well, once again your Community Club is going to offer their help, and sponsor the Annual Highland Park Community Yard Sale. From 9 A.M. through whenever we quit, on Sunday June 6, 2004. We, as a neighborhood, will get together and sell all that wonderful stuff, junk, clothing collectibles, - what ever.

For the low, low price of $12 the Community Club takes care of the advertising (in newspapers, Pennysaver, on telephone poles, and in store windows), we make maps of yard sale locations, lists of the items for sale, and distribute these maps and lists on the day of the sale. Last year, as in previous years, we had about 100 families participating (selling) and gave out about 800 maps to people from all over the city and county (my Mom even came from Atlanta one year just for this sale). Just send your check for $12 (MADE OUT TO THE HPCC) to me - Judy Wolfe at: 5910 Wellesley Avenue, Pittsburgh 15206, with the informtion below.

If you want to help me out putting up notices or in the distribution of maps and lists on the day of the sale, please call me at 412 441-7830. I would really appreciate your help. Volunteers have a great time and it generally takes about an hour.

President's Letter

The March meeting, held at Fulton Academy, featured Mayor Murphy speaking about the current fiscal situation of the City and the underlying tax structure. The business meeting of the HPCC board was limited to a few announcements. I apologize to all those who showed up expecting an extensive discussion of HPCC business.

The meeting was a good one though. Mayor Murphy gave a good presentation of the current financial situation with lots of numbers and figures. Whether you agree with his reading of the situation or not, it was informative to hear. The Mayor's office has promised to send copies of his presentation so all those who missed it can be informed. Contact me if you would like to see a copy (and I hope they send them to me by the time this newsletter gets to you). The Mayor is asking everyone to contact their elected state legislators urging them to make the hard decisions about changing the tax structure for the City.

Pittsburgh Camarata Concert

The Pittsburgh Camerata PRESENTS presents "Faire Is the Heaven" at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, 5801 Hampton Street, on Sunday, April 25 at 2:30 PM. The 24-voice chamber choir sings a concert of music inspired by visions of heaven and earth. Sacred texts, which speak of love and freedom from the power and fear of death, are brought to life with lyrical melodies and vivid harmonies. Hear the motet "Jesu Meine Freude" in which J. S. Bach fuses a deep understanding of the text with superior craftsmanship to create superb music. Delight in contemporary pieces by William Duckworth, Frank Ferko and Herbert Howells and ancient pieces by Orlando Gibbons and Dietrich Buxtehude. William Harris' double choir motet "Faire Is the Heaven", which sets Edmund Spencer's poem to music, best summarizes the mood of the concert: "Faire is the heaven, Where happy soules have place, In full enjoyment of felicity."

Julie Andrijeski and Susanne Park on baroque violins, Laura Haibeck and Patricia Halverson on violas da gamba, J. Tracy Mortimore on violone and Anthony Rollett on organ join the Camerata.

Tickets are $15 and $6 for students.. 412-421-5884. For more information and a concert program listing, visit the Camerata's website at www.pittsburghcamerata.org

Around St. Andrew's, April 2004

Bruce Robison

April begins with Holy Week and Easter around St. Andrew's. Among the many services and special events, one highlight is the major choral and musical program scheduled for the "3rd Hour," beginning at 2 P.M., during the traditional 12 noon – 3 P.M. service on Good Friday, April 9.

Easter Sunday (April 11) as well is always a most festive day of celebration, with brass and choir at the 11 a.m. service, followed by a fun Easter Egg Hunt in the Churchyard (weather permitting) for the children while parents enjoy an Easter Morning Champagne Reception in Brooks Hall.

St. Andrew's has been located at the corner of Hampton Street and North Euclid Avenue and an integral part of our Highland Park neighborhood for nearly a century. If there is a pastoral need with which we can be of assistance – a baby to be baptized, a wedding to be celebrated, a shut-in or ill neighbor or family member to be visited, a family to be supported at the time of a death – please let us know. Or if you simply need to borrow a few tables or chairs – or to schedule a back-up, "rainy day" location for a family reunion picnic—please know we'll do what we can. Office Hours are Tuesday – Friday, 9 a.m. – 12 noon and 1 p.m. – 3 p.m., and our phone number is (412) 661-1245.

Free Tennis Lessons Offered by HPTC

The HPTC (Highland Park Tennis Club), a "not for profit" organization, was created about 3 years ago in order to promote tennis in the city of Pittsburgh. We have fundraisers and tennis events throughout the year to raise money for free clinics and for the enjoyment of members and guests. The membership consists of tennis players who frequent the Stanton Avenue tennis courts in Highland Park.

On Saturday, May 1st, our second annual free clinics will begin. Lessons are open for players of any age and ability. The lessons run on subsequent Saturdays through July 17th from the hours of 9:30 to 11 AM. The volunteer instructors are seasoned tennis players who give of their time and energy for this project. Tennis racquets are available for children and adults if needed.

If you are interested in signing up, or for further information, please contact Mavis Close by phone (412 363 3253) or e-mail (mc10sysalsa@hotmail.com).

Last year's lessons were a huge success. Those involved learned a new skill, had fun and improved fitness. Come and see what all the excitement is about!!!

President's Letter (Continued from Page 1)

The other good thing about the meeting was the location. Fulton Academy is a nice building and the HPCC was well received. There were school staff, students, parents and volunteers there to speak with, and Principal Marlene Taylor made us all feel very welcome. I did not get a good opportunity to take a tour of the school, but many folks did. The parent's association provided refreshments (can't beat homemade cookies).

Since we did not get to discuss much business, there are several items I have to update you on:

- 1) The Super Playground cleanup was postponed due to weather and lack of interest. It will be rescheduled for a later date when more people will be excited to help maintain this neighborhood treasure (Big Brothers Big Sisters of Greater Pittsburgh mention it as one of the places to go in their Guide for New Matches).
- 2) The Spring Children's event is scheduled for April 3rd at St. Andrews Church from 1:00 - 3:30 P.M.. Not only can you bring your kids, but there is fun in helping to make it a success. Bring a neighbor.
- 3) The Pittsburgh-To-Harrisburg Mainline Canal Greenway Draft Master Plan is almost ready to be distributed. I had never even heard of this project, but one of the advantages of being President is getting to pick up and read all the mail. There will be a meeting on April 6th, hosted by the Friends of the Riverfront, to review the plan. This is a trail/path that goes between Pittsburgh and Harrisburg, along the Allegheny and other rivers. Since it passes along our side of the Allegheny, right at the base of Highland Park, this should be of interest to us. I hope you can make it to the meeting. If not, get some info at www.alleghenyridge.org.

4) The Great PA Cleanup will be held Saturday, April 24th all over our state. Governor Rendell's office has designated the Negley Run area as a great place to clean up to celebrate Earth Day. There is a need for volunteers to help clean up this section of road. If you have opportunity to look over to the side of the road while you are dodging potholes, you will see all the trash that is no longer hidden beneath the lush foliage we are so lucky to have in this area. When the snow melts this time next year, wouldn't it be nice to see just trees and dirt ready to spring forth? Contact me if you are interested, and I should have more information about it by then.

5) I would like to hold a meeting at my house during the week of the next meeting (either April 12th, 13th, or 14th) to discuss the current committees and how they can be reorganized. There are many committees that can be combined, and some to be removed, that will assist in keeping the HPCC working effectively. If you are interested in discussing this, let me know. I will set a date and time, and hopefully all can fit in my house.

The next meeting of the HPCC is April 15th. I hope to see you there.

March Meeting Highlights

Andrea Mudd

Fulton School hosted the monthly meeting of the HPCC on March 18, 2004. Club President Bob Staresinic called the meeting to order at 7:35 P.M. and introduced Fulton Principal Marlene Taylor. Ms Taylor welcomed the Club to Fulton and introduced several students and VIPs including teachers, volunteers and parents before showing a slide presentation highlighting student in-house activities and recent field trips. As home to over 200 K-5 students, one of Fulton's great strengths is the energy of its student body - Ms Taylor's presentation showcased the efforts of students and faculty along with community helpers to use their time together productively. Ms Taylor invited the community to visit Fulton at any time and made a tour of the school available after the meeting concluded.

Mayor Tom Murphy's appearance was the much anticipated focal point of the March meeting. Mayor Murphy spoke and answered a number of questions from the audience. While our summary can hardly do justice to the far-reaching volume of information he shared, the Mayor left us after a non-stop hour with the distinct impression we had been treated to a virtuoso civics lesson, with a generous helping of Economics 101, and State-of-the-City report - held together by the seemingly boundless enthusiasm the Mayor holds for our city, our neighborhoods and our future. The successful growth and development initiatives this Administration has brought to fruition are somewhat tempered by the City's current fiscal challenges. But maybe because Pittsburgh is experiencing so much activity on both "fronts" the Mayor's talk truly had something of interest for everyone ranging from hard-number/hard-nosed political realities to eco-friendly discussion of managing sprawl. In a call to action the Mayor urged everyone to participate in the political process and to support resolution of the City's financial problems by urging State legislators to permit a broader tax base and a more fair distribution of the tax burden.

Before adjourning the meeting, Bob Staresinic informed everyone the Super Playground Clean-up has been postponed, the deadline for voter registration is March 29th, and announced an April 6 meeting of the Friends of the Riverfront

Crystal Radiance Wellness Studio: New business on Bryant Street:

Ms. Indigo will open her "Wellness Studio" this month next to Augie's on Bryant Street. She offers therapeutic massage, aromatherapy, herbal supplements and more.

In addition to services and product sales, the Wellness Studio will offer various classes and workshops, including free classes on Mondays starting in the second week of March.

Ms. Indigo decided to locate her business in Highland Park after observing the community spirit in our neighborhood, including the friendly gatherings at Enrico's Tazza d'Oro. She lives in Highland Park, supports other Bryant Street businesses, and has already gotten to know some of the other business owners.

The Wellness Studio has a special introductory offer for multiple sessions of aromatherapy, massage, and other services which you can find out more about by visiting or calling:

School Board Views

Patrick Dowd

The Pittsburgh Board of Education has two important responsibilities. First, the Board must guarantee the safety and the academic success of all our students. Second, the Board must guarantee the long-term financial health of the district. In early March, the Superintendent and the Board announced a plan to reduce the district's excess capacity in facilities. This plan will strengthen both the academic performance and the financial health of the Pittsburgh Public Schools.

We all know that the Pittsburgh Public Schools must reduce the excess capacity in facilities. Currently, the district has space for over 50,000 students, but only about 34,000 students attend our schools. This means that everyday the district is operating with an excess capacity of 31%. Furthermore, the Board knows from demographic studies that the enrollment of the district is projected to decline even further over the next five years. In the face of these challenges, the Board must carefully manage resources for the students of today and tomorrow.

The Board believes that by reducing excess capacity the district can concentrate its resources on the education of each child. Simply put, the Board can choose either to pay for empty seats or to pay for educational programs. This Board wants to concentrate district resources on students and, therefore, will realign our resources to reduce excess seats. On a school level, this will mean different things. It might, for example, mean the presence of more literacy coaches, more tutors, even new more educationally appropriate facilities. In some schools it might mean the presence of full- rather than part-time art, music or physical education teachers. In other schools this might translate into the creation of before- and after-school programs. In the future, it might mean establishing pre-kindergarten programs. The Board believes we should be delivering these and other programs that improve the quality of education for our students. This Board wants to pay for programs, not empty seats.

The overall plan proposes closing 15 of the district's 86 school buildings to reduce capacity by approximately 4,400 seats. This would reduce our excess capacity, but it would still leave the district with approximately 10,000 extra seats. The proposed realignment would achieve a projected operating savings of $8.1 million a year. The realignment would also help the district realize a one-time savings of $13.8 million by eliminating projected capital costs.

At this point, the Board is taking comments, suggestions and criticism from the Pittsburgh community. The proposed plan will not be voted on until there has been sufficient interaction with the community. It is the hope of all Board members that after working with the administration and the community, we will be able to implement solutions that will improve the quality of education while also preserving the resources of the district.

If you have comments, questions, concerns or suggestions you can contact me at my website www.patrickdowd.org. You can also call the Pittsburgh Board of Education at 412 622-3770. You can write to the Pittsburgh Board of Education at 341 South Bellefield Avenue; Pittsburgh, PA 15213. Public hearings are scheduled each month and anyone who contacts the Pittsburgh Board of Education in advance is welcome to speak.

My colleagues and I look forward to hearing from you.

Dear Mr. Rieley:

As you are aware, new service changes will take effect on March 14th. I want to assure you that Port Authority staff will continue to monitor the Highland Park issues.

We did receive three customer complaints following our November 23rd schedule changes. The complaints were addressed immediately by field personnel.

There are no service changes occurring with the March 14th pick that effect the Highland Park community.

I sincerely appreciate and thank the community for their continued support and assistance.

If you have any questions, please contact me at 412-566-5323.

Sincerely,
